With great pleasure I am writing few words for the new Journal - Medical Science, where I am serving as Editor. Remarkable advancements have been made in the field of Medical, Dental, Nursing and Allied health sciences during the past 10 years. It influenced our life expectancy, better health management; treatment in an improved way, even its impact can be seen in health policy of governments of different countries. The major objective of the journal - Medical Science is to encourage physicians through the Internet, especially we focus in the developing countries doctors, scientists, dentists, nurses and allied health science workers who are the witness of a spectrum of disease and acquire a wealth of knowledge for the benefit of the health science community by means of scientific online publication.

The rate of advancements in Medical, Dental, nursing and allied health sciences field is so enormous that it takes time for them to know properly about its application. Medical Science journal has launched to bring out all the research activities from Medical, Dental, Nursing and Allied health sciences under a common platform, so that advancements from all these fields can be published in one journal and freely accessible for everyone.

Knowledge without distribution has no value. Advancements of science and technology in the past few years gave birth of the World Wide Web which is helping people for sharing the information's, advancements in different fields for the wellbeing of human civilization. Keeping this in mind we started our journal as online to provide a free of cost access from any part of the world.

Journal editorial team will try their best to take several initiatives that will improve the quality of reporting and we have given prime importance to the transparency of research in general, and randomized trials in particular, by emphasizing the importance of protocols. We consider submissions of randomized trials only if registered and accompanied by a protocol, which is sent with the manuscript to peer reviewers. We aspire to make this journal one of the best journals that will follow standard criteria of scientific article writing along with sound technical proficiency.

Due to excessive workload and time constraints, it is really difficult for physicians who may lack the motivation for writing a research article. Keeping this in mind the Medical Science also offers a range of several other services which include - peer review, proof reading, setting up of the bibliography, and English language improvement. The main motto is to assist, so that they can share their clinical knowledge by the platform of Medical Science Journal. Our editorial team came up with a determination to make it as one of the best journals in Asia with everybody's effort and whole hearted support. We promise you to come to your expectation and also make it an international indexed journal. However, for all this we need your contribution in the future issues.

This journal and its services are not affiliated to any pharmaceutical or other company. It is a philanthropic effort by Confederation of Medical Research Associations, India.

At this auspicious moment it would be extremely remiss on my part if I don't acknowledge the contribution and express my gratitude to the many people whose blessings, active cooperation and help make our journal to come up with a novel vision. Lastly I must thank my parents, sister, wife, my teachers and colleagues who encourage me to start Medical Science journal.
